Dear Educators,

When a catalog that lists books arrives in my mailbox, I stop everything and browse excitedly through the pages! I can't resist the pull of learning about books that I can order for my students. The catalog you're holding now, filled with page after page of outstanding books, from the Penguin Random House family of publishers was developed especially to support you and the children you teach!

If you're like me, you'll want to choose books for your class library and guided reading groups that focus on students' interests. Remember to reserve time to include your students in the book selection process. Take a few minutes and ask them to turn-and-talk to a partner about books they'd love to see in their classroom. Then, have students jot on a piece of notebook paper the topics they're curious about, authors they love, series they want to read, and favorite genres. Adding books students suggest to your classroom collections honors them as readers and shows how much you value and respect their input.

The more books your students read and enjoy, the more they'll improve.
Volume and choice in reading matters!

Happy reading!

Board

Board books are children's introduction to the wonder of reading, and in this section you'll find books that introduce concepts like counting, our community, identifying shapes, and colors. These books will help you offer babies and toddlers a wide range of literary experiences, and all the time you're developing their vocabulary and deepening their understanding of the world. And as you read aloud, you'll build loving connections between you and the child, as both of you enjoy these books!

Little Owl's Day

Divya Srinivasan

A squirrel is chittering. Bees are buzzing. The sun is high in the sky. And Little Owl is supposed to be asleep, but when he wakes up early, he's just too curious to close his eyes again. The forest he knows so well at nighttime is completely different—and exciting—in the day! After watching butterflies dance, wolf pups play, and then his very first rainbow, Little Owl returns to his tree. He has many new stories for his mama. Little Owl's Day is just right for young children and the perfect introduction to the joy and wonder of the natural world.

Leveled Readers

Using leveled readers for instruction helps you support students in small, flexible groups with the goal of improving their reading skill. Since successful small group instruction depends on choosing a text that is “just right” for the group, this section offers a wide range of topics at different readability levels that will interest your students, build their vocabulary, and enlarge their background knowledge. The variety of leveled readers that you use with small groups can help students solve reading problems independently, and develop a passion for reading.

DK Readers L1: Tale of a Tadpole

Karen Wallace

Starting out as an egg on a lily pad, follow the life of a newborn tadpole as he hides from the dangers of the pond including hungry goldfish and beetles, as he grows up into a frog.

Level 1 books are stories for children just beginning to learn to read. They use short, simple sentences, simple vocabulary, word repetition, and large type. Strong visual clues help children with new words. Lively stories feature characters and topics that are familiar to young children.

A Pig, a Fox, and Stinky Socks

Jonathan Fenske

The stars of Jonathan Fenske's 2016 Theodor Seuss Geisel Honor book, A Pig, a Fox, and a Box, are back!

Pig and Fox are back-and so are their shenanigans! Told in a silly three-part story, A Pig, a Fox, and Stinky Socks begins with a prank, with Fox “gifting” Pig with a pair of stinky socks. But what happens when his plan goes awry and the shoe (or sock!) is on the other foot? With comical art and simple language, Pig and Fox's antics in this Level 2 reader will continue to crack kids up.

Socio-Emotional Learning

Socio-emotional learning can have positive affects on children's physical and mental wellbeing. The books in this section can foster discussions on managing emotions, feeling compassion and empathy for others, and making responsible decisions. By building students' social-emotional capacity through reading and discussing books, you enhance their ability to experience successful relationships in school as well as in the interactions they have at home and in their neighborhoods. The result? Your class can become a community that respects self-awareness and embraces the uniqueness and needs of others.

Each Kindness

Jacqueline Woodson; Illustrated by E. B. Lewis

Chloe and her friends won't play with the new girl, Maya. Every time Maya tries to join Chloe and her friends, they reject her. Eventually Maya stops coming to school. When Chloe's teacher gives a lesson about how even small acts of kindness can change the world, Chloe is stung by the lost opportunity for friendship, and thinks about how much better it could have been if she'd shown a little kindness toward Maya.

With its powerful anti-bullying message and striking art, it will resonate with readers long after they've put it down.

Sitting Still Like a Frog

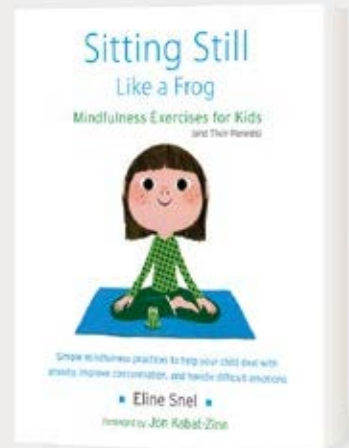

Mindfulness Exercises for Kids (and Their Parents)

Eline Snel; Exercises read by Myla Kabat-Zinn; Foreword by Jon Kabat-Zinn

"Simple mindfulness practices to help your child (ages 5-12) deal with anxiety, improve concentration, and handle difficult emotions.

Mindfulness—the quality of attention that combines full awareness with acceptance of each moment, just as it is—is gaining broad acceptance among mental health professionals as an adjunct to treatment. This little book is a very appealing introduction to mindfulness meditation for teachers, children and their parents. In a simple and accessible way, it describes what mindfulness is and how mindfulness-based practices can help children calm down, become more focused, fall asleep more easily, alleviate worry, manage anger, and generally become more patient and aware.

The Cardboard Kingdom

Chad Sell

"Perfect for fans of Raina Telgemeier, Awkward, and All's Faire in Middle School, this graphic novel follows a neighborhood of kids who transform ordinary cardboard into fantastical homemade costumes as they explore conflicts with friends, family, and their own identity.

Welcome to a neighborhood of kids who transform ordinary boxes into colorful costumes, and their ordinary block into cardboard kingdom. This is the summer when sixteen kids encounter knights and rogues, robots and monsters—and their own inner demons—on one last quest before school starts again.

Inclusive Texts

A terrific way your students can gain a deeper understanding of their culture and cultures of others is by reading and discussing multicultural literature. When you encourage your students to immerse themselves in these books, you're promoting an interest in learning about diverse cultures and using books as mirrors. By offering opportunities for children to see themselves in the story, you develop learners' understanding of and respect for other cultures. They then become the key to building a class community that reflects our world and values diversity.

Tiger Boy

Mitali Perkins

When a tiger cub escapes from a nature reserve near Neel's island village, the rangers and villagers hurry to find her before the cub's anxious mother follows suit and endangers them all. Neel and his sister, Rupa, resolve to find the cub first and bring her back to the reserve where she belongs. Through his encounter with the cub, Neel learns that sometimes you have to take risks to preserve what you love. And sometimes you have to sacrifice the present for the chance to improve the future.

The Epic Fail of Arturo Zamora

Pablo Cartaya

A 2018 Pura Belpre Author Honor Book

For Arturo, summertime in Miami means playing basketball until dark, sipping mango smoothies, and keeping cool under banyan trees. And maybe a few shifts as junior lunchtime dishwasher at Abuela's restaurant. Maybe. But this summer also includes Carmen, a poetry enthusiast who moves into Arturo's apartment complex and turns his stomach into a deep fryer. He almost doesn't notice the smarmy land developer who rolls into town and threatens to change it. Arturo refuses to let his family and community go down without a fight, and as he schemes with Carmen, Arturo discovers the power of poetry and protest through untold family stories and the work of Jose Martí.

STEAM

The books in this section tap into children's fascination with science, technology, engineering, math and the arts. The five topics in this section are applicable to real life situations and projects that enable students to develop teamwork and communicate their hunches and ideas. Bringing STEAM books into your classroom, and inviting students to use them to enhance hands-on learning, educates them to be the problem solvers and knowledgeable global citizens of tomorrow.

Twinderella, A Fractioned Fairy Tale

Corey Rosen Schwartz; Illustrated by Deborah Marcero

From the author of The Three Ninja Pigs comes the fractioned fairy tale of Cinderella and her less-famous sister, Tinderella, who she always has to share with. Cinderella and Tinderella split everything right down the middle. They each do half the housework, half the mending, and half the mean step-sister tending. When the Prince throws a ball, their fairy godmother sends them both, and they dance the night away with the prince. But he simply can't choose between Cin and Tin, and they are in need of some clever thinking and just a pinch of magic.

Pink Is For Blobfish

Discovering the World's Perfectly Pink Animals

Jess Keating

A New York Public Library Best Book for Kids, 2016

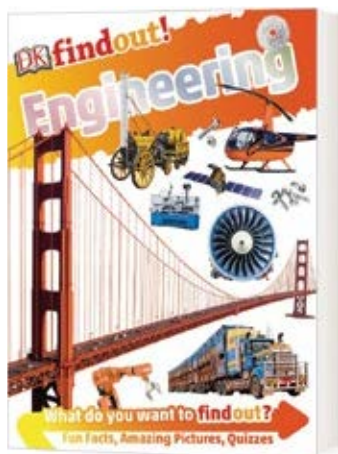

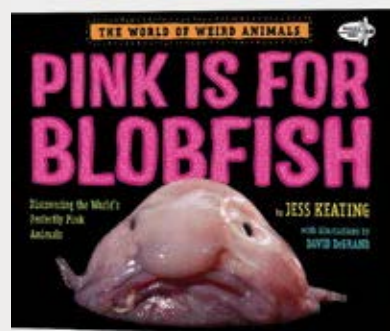

Sure, pink is the color of princesses and bubblegum, but it's also the color of monster slugs and poisonous insects. Not to mention ultra-intelligent dolphins, naked mole rats and bizarre, bloated blobfish.

Isn't it about time to rethink pink?

Slip on your rose-colored glasses and take a walk on the wild side with zoologist Jess Keating, whose other books in the World of Weird Animals series include What Makes a Monster? and Cute as an Axolotl.

"The 2016 Ambassador to Young People's Science and Nature books is unquestionably the blobfish." —Shelftalker.

Just Like Beverly A Biography of Beverly Cleary

Vicki Conrad; Illustrated by David Hohn

As a young girl, Beverly Cleary struggled to learn to read and found most children’s books dull and uninteresting. She often wondered if there were any books about kids just like her. With hard work, and the encouragement of her parents and a special teacher, she learned to read and at a young age discovered she had a knack for writing.

Beverly Cleary’s story comes to life in this narrative nonfiction picture book as she grows to follow her dreams of writing the books she longed for as a child, becoming an award-winning writer and one of the most famous children’s authors of all time.

The Boy Who Invented TV

The Story of Philo Farnsworth

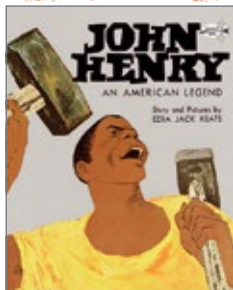

Kathleen Krull; Illustrated by Greg Couch

An inspiring true story of a boy genius.

Plowing a potato field in 1920, a 14-year-old farm boy from Idaho saw in the parallel rows of overturned earth a way to “make pictures fly through the air.” This boy was not a magician; he was a scientific genius and just eight years later he made his brainstorm in the potato field a reality by transmitting the world’s first television image. This fascinating picture-book biography of Philo Farnsworth covers his early interest in machines and electricity, leading up to how he put it all together in one of the greatest inventions of the 20th century

Nonfiction: History

One Giant Leap

Robert Burleigh; Illustrated by Mike Wimmer

"The sense of immediacy is irresistible and will cause children who consider the event just ancient history to feel as if they too had left footprints on that distant, dusty surface." —School Library Journal

Only July 29, 1969, as Americans sat glued to their televisions and radios, Neil Armstrong and Buzz Aldrin did the seemingly impossible—something humans had dreamed of doing for centuries: They traveled 240,000 miles through space and set foot on the moon. This achievement not only brought the moon within reach, but now everything seemed possible. If it could be imagined, it could be done.

Friends for Freedom

The Story of Susan B. Anthony & Frederick Douglass

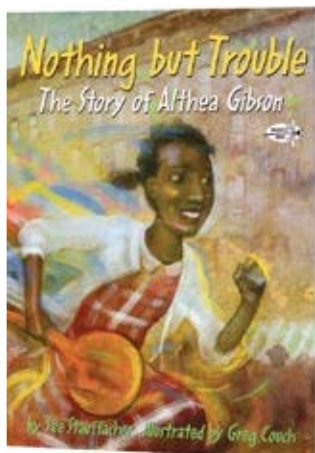

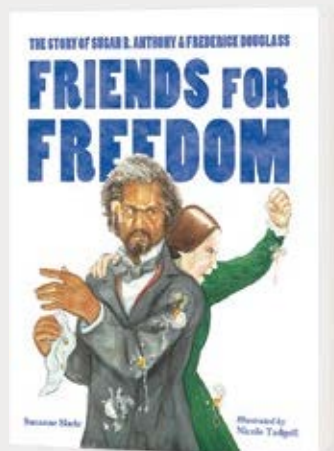

Suzanne Slade; Illustrated by Nicole Tadgell

Their friendship changed a nation.

No one thought Susan B. Anthony and Frederick Douglass would ever become friends. The former slave and the outspoken woman came from two different worlds. But they shared deep-seated beliefs in equality and the need to fight for it. Despite naysayers, hecklers, arsonists, and even their own disagreements, Susan and Frederick remained fast friends and worked together to change America.

This little-known story introduces young readers to two momentous personalities in American history and to their fiery passion for human rights and equality.

Soupy Leaves Home

Written by Cecil Castellucci; Illustrated by Jose Pimienta.

Set in 1932, this is the story of two misfits with no place to call home, who build a relationship during a train hopping journey from the cold heartbreak of their eastern homes toward the sunny promise of California.

Pearl "Soupy" Plankette ran away from her abusive father, but has nowhere to go until she stumbles upon a disguise that gives her the key to a new identity. Reborn as a boy named Soupy, she hitches her star to Remy "Ramshackle" Smith, a hobo who takes her under his wing. Ramshackle's kindness and protection go a long way to help Soupy heal from her difficult past.

The War That Saved My Life

Kimberly Brubaker Bradley

2016 Newbery Honor book

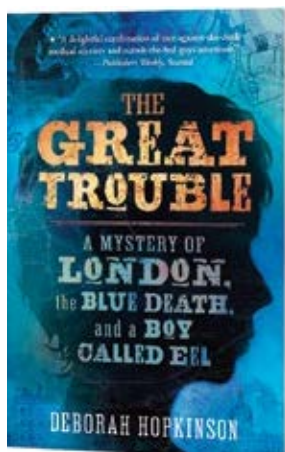

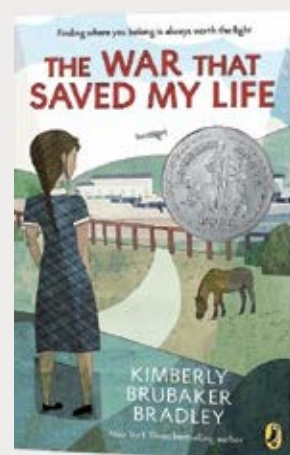

Winner of the 2016 Schneider Family Book Award

This #1 New York Times bestseller is an exceptionally moving story of triumph against all odds set during World War II. For fans of Counting by 7s and Sarah, Plain and Tall.

Ten-year-old Ada has never left her one-room apartment. Her mother is too humiliated by Ada's twisted foot to let her outside. So when her little brother Jamie is shipped out of London to escape the war, Ada doesn't waste a minute—she sneaks out to join him.

So begins a new adventure for Ada, and for Susan Smith, the woman who is forced to take the two kids in.

The Great Trouble

A Mystery of London, the Blue Death, and a Boy Called Eel

Deborah Hopkinson

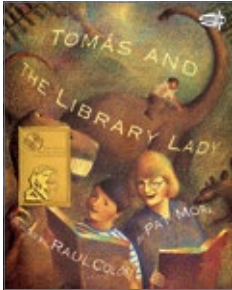

Eel has troubles of his own: As an orphan and a "mudlark," he spends his days in the filthy River Thames, searching for bits of things to sell. He's being hunted by Fisheye Bill Tyler, and a nastier man never walked the streets of London. And he's got a secret that costs him four precious shillings a week to keep safe. But even for Eel, things aren't so bad until that fateful August day in 1854—the day the deadly cholera ("blue death") comes to Broad Street.

"Hopkinson illuminates a pivotal chapter in the history of public health. . . . Accessible . . . and entertaining."—School Library Journal, Starred

Dragones y Tacos

Adam Rubin; Illustrated by Daniel Salmieri

Dragons love tacos. They love chicken tacos, beef tacos, great big tacos, and teeny tiny tacos. So if you want to lure a bunch of dragons to your party, you should definitely serve tacos. Buckets and buckets of tacos. Unfortunately, where there are tacos, there is also salsa. And if a dragon accidentally eats spicy salsa . . . oh, boy. You're in red-hot trouble.

The #1 New York Times bestselling phenomenon of Adam Rubin and Daniel Salmieri has created an unforgettable tale of new friends and the perfect snack.

Narwhal: Unicorn of the Sea (A Narwhal and Jelly Book #1)

Ben Clanton

Narwhal is a happy-go-lucky narwhal. Jelly is a no-nonsense jellyfish. The two might not have a lot in common, but they do they love waffles, parties and adventures.

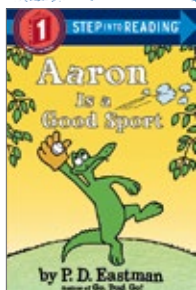

A wonderfully silly early graphic novel series featuring three stories. In the first, Jelly learns that Narwhal is a really good friend. Then Narwhal and Jelly form their own pod of awesomeness with their ocean friends. And finally, Narwhal and Jelly read the best book ever — even though it doesn't have any words...or pictures!

Ben Clanton showcases the joys of friendship, the benefits of working together and the power of imagination!

Fiction: Mystery & Suspense

What Really Happened to Humpty?

Jeanie Franz Ransom; Illustrated by Stephen Axelsen

A Mother Goose mystery that will have readers wondering ‘Who done it?’ In this fast-paced, nursery-rhyme caper, hardboiled detective, Joe Dumpty does his darnedest to crack the case. It all started when Humpty Dumpty sat on a wall. Then, Humpty Dumpty had a great fall. Or—as his brother Detective Joe Dumpty thinks—was he pushed? Suspects are aplenty (as are the puns) in this scrambled noir. Detective Dumpty works his way through the list of suspects, that hail from the pages of Mother Goose, in order to get to the bottom of what really happened to his brother.

The Missing Baseball

Mike Lupica

There’s nothing eight-year-old twins Zach and Zoe Walker love more than playing sports and solving mysteries. And when those two worlds collide . . . well, it doesn’t get any better than that. So when a baseball signed by Zach’s favorite major league player suddenly goes missing—the search is on.

In this first book of the Zach and Zoe Mysteries, bestselling author Mike Lupica begins a series for a new and younger audience, introducing readers to a sports-loving detective duo who can swing for the fences and catch the culprit in one fell swoop.

Wonder

R. J. Palacio

Over 6 million people have read the #1 New York Times bestseller Wonder and have fallen in love with Auggie Pullman, an ordinary boy with an extraordinary face.

The book that inspired the Choose Kind movement.

In a world where bullying among young people is an epidemic, this is a refreshing new narrative full of heart and hope. R.J. Palacio has called her debut novel "a meditation on kindness"—indeed, every reader will come away with a greater appreciation for the simple courage of friendship. Auggie is a hero to root for, a diamond in the rough who proves that you can't blend in when you were born to stand out.

My Wilderness An Alaskan Adventure

Claudia McGehee

In 1918 painter Rockwell Kent took his nine-year-old son to spend a winter on Alaska's Fox Island. In My Wilderness, Claudia McGehee recounts this vivid nonfiction tale from Rocky's point of view. Colorful scratchboard-style illustrations echo the rugged subject matter with whimsy while showcasing the wonder of Alaska from a young boy's imaginative point of view.

Hailed as "a tale to treasure again and again" by School Library Journal (starred review), this gorgeous picture book highlights the beauty and power of the Alaskan landscape seen through a boy's eyes.

Circus Mirandus

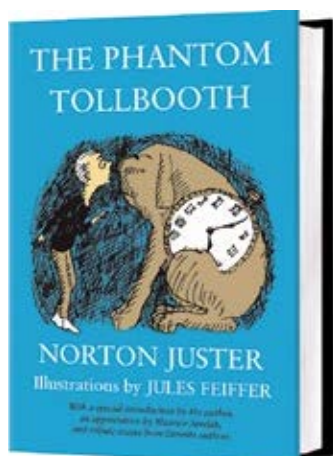

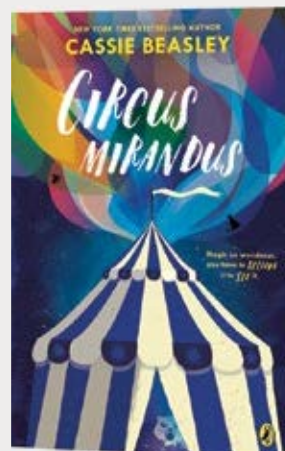

Cassie Beasley

Micah Tuttle's Grandpa Ephraim has always told him wonderful stories about Circus Mirandus, a magical circus that he visited when he was a boy. But now Grandpa Ephraim is dying, and the terrible, grouchy Aunt Gertrudis has arrived to take care of Micah.

All the magic of Micah's childhood seems lost until Grandpa Ephraim finally tells him the truth: Circus Mirandus is real, and the Lightbender, the Circus's greatest magician, owes Grandpa Ephraim a miracle. The Stars Beneath Our Feet

David Barclay Moore

"The right story at the right time. . . . It's not just a narrative; it's an experience. It's the novel we've been waiting for."—The New York Times

Winner of the Coretta Scott King–John Steptoe Award for New Talent!

A boy tries to steer a safe path through the projects in Harlem in the wake of his brother's death in this outstanding debut novel that celebrates community and creativity. David Barclay Moore paints a powerful portrait of a boy teetering on the edge—of adolescence, of grief, of violence. And shows how Lolly's inventive spirit helps him build a life with firm foundations and open doors.

Every Sunday after church, CJ and his grandma ride the bus across town. But today, CJ wonders why they don't own a car like his friend Colby. Why doesn't he have an iPod like the boys on the bus? How come they always have to get off in the dirty part of town? Each question is met with an encouraging answer from grandma, who helps him see the beauty—and fun—in their routine and the world around them.

This energetic ride through a bustling city highlights the wonderful perspective only grandparent and grandchild can share, and comes to life through Matt de la Peña's vibrant text and Christian Robinson's radiant illustrations.
